Content

INSIGHTS MDI® (Management Development Instruments) are applied as a basis for marketing, communication and executive trainings.

The Online process subdivides 8 principle types into about 384 subtypes and provides objective information on behavioural styles and the values of each person and entire teams.

The balance between the natural behavioural style and the professionally adapted behavioural style presents concrete potentials for optimisation in a detailed report.

Advantages

- Assess adjustments, convictions and ideals objectively
- Expand personal communication style
- Balance perception of self and others
- Analyse strengths and chances clearly
- Demonstrate alternative actions

Methods

Online assessment, workshop, personal coaching

Duration

15 min. Online as well as individual or team advising (6-12 persons)
